

How to tell when you are chatting with a predator

- If the person asks you where you are going to go after school
- If the person asks for a picture of you
- If the person asks where you live
- If the person asks about any other private information

Now you know how to be safe online and make sure you're careful about what you type because you never know you could be talking to a predator.

